Customs man nabbed in Japan

3 guns, ammos seized by Narita airport police

By Mike Davis

A BUREAU OF CUSTOMS (BOC) EXAMINER WAS nabbed in Japan last week after three hand guns and 200 rounds of live ammunition were allegedly found in his possession, BOC Commissioner Alexander Arevalo said yesterday.

Arevalo identified the arrested examiner as Gary Evans, who teaches at Customs academy in May 1990. He is now detained at the Manila Police Station at the Manila International Airport.

Arevalo's spokesman in Manila, Joe Oll, said that Evans was able to smuggle the weapons and ammunition into the airport despite the strict security measures adopted at the airport.

He was arrested upon arrival at the Manila International Airport Terminal on the same day at around 7 p.m. for illegal possession and transport of firearms and ammunition. Japanese Customs academy found two 20 caliber semi-automatic pistols, two 38 caliber revolvers, and 200 pieces of live ammunition in Evans's possession.

The handguns were concealed in the inner lining of a pocket in Evans's leather jacket, while 100 pieces of ammunition were hidden in the back pockets of his pants. The other 100 pieces of ammunition were found in Evans's hand-carried baggage.

In a press conference yesterday, Manila International Airport Authority (MIAA) security chief, Capt. Ray Bito Aguilera, said that the incident was a blow to the airport as it is a major security concern.

"We accept the severe lapse in regulation, despite the strict security measures we have been implementing. We are now investigating how we can improve our security measures to prevent such incidents from happening again," he said.

He added that the MIAA has initiated emergency measures to prevent a similar incident.

Arevalo said that Evans must have known the advantage of the BOC and Customs academy's "bulletproof" suit.

BOC Transportation Security Administration (TSA) representatives in Manila have been alerted to the incident, he added.

CASE TRANSFERRED TO PASAY CITY

Dos Palmas suspect to be presented Monday

By Lulge A. del Puerto

THE KIDNAPING SUSPECT ALLEGED TO have been involved in the kidnappings at the Dos Palmas resort in Palawan in 2003 has yet to be presented in court a week after he was arrested in Baguio City.

According to Director Vidal Quesal, chief of the National Capital Region Police Office, the police decided not to push through with the plan to fly Ariel Salih—identified by a police informer as the "Alio Tagalog" involved in the kidnappings—to Manila, Basilan where the case was supposed to be heard.

He said Manila town officials had informed the Manila police that the cases against the Abu Sayyaf suspects in the Dos Palmas kidnapping had been transferred to Pasay City.

Quesal said Salih would be presented to the justice department officers on Monday.

Salih, who is being detained at Camp Bagong (New Headquarters) of the PTC-PC, was supposed to have been flown to Basilan last Thursday.

Quesal said his office has been careful not to violate the rights of Salih, who was arrested last Saturday in Baguio City based on an arrest warrant issued by the Basilan court.

"I was just that my men did not know that the case had been transferred (from Basilan to Pasay City)," he said.

Quesal explained that the information about the transfer of the case was received late.

"My men told me they were making last minute preparations. They called Manila to coordinate their arrival there because they had wanted somebody to fetch them," he said.

He said the three-day holiday this week may have caused the delay. Government offices were closed on Monday, Tuesday and Friday.

Quesal said his men already worked with the Department of Justice officers in Manila to find out which Pasay City court was trying the kidnapping case.

A police informer had pointed to Salih as the "Alio Tagalog" involved in the Dos Palmas kidnappings.

According to Quesal, he also signed his name as "Ariel Salih Francisco aka Alio Tagalog" when he was booked.

An intelligence officer in Camp Crame has claimed, however, that Salih had an criminal record and was most likely not the "Alio Tagalog" alleged in the kidnappings.

He said the arrest warrant only listed the alias "Alio Tagalog," which he said was a "generic alias."

The police are looking for two more Abu Sayyaf members with this alias, but none of them is Salih, said the officer who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Until his arrest, Salih had not been linked to any terrorist or kidnap group, the officer said.

He said the police had in fact arrested an "Alio Tagalog" in October 2002, Mark Umahakhal, tagged as an Abu Sayyaf member and the "Alio Tagalog" linked to the Dos Palmas kidnapping case, is being held with other alleged Abu Sayyaf members in a secret Manila jail.

Bedojin Abdulrah, a Baguio-based Islamic scholar said Salih, a native of Basilan, was a volunteer kitchen helper at the local Alhambra International Center, the largest Islamic institute in northern Luzon.

He has been living in Baguio since 1997, he added.

Salih was arrested along with a man identified only as Mario, a pitmaster at the same Islamic school.

US, the United States, and present the alleged US war crime evidence on the library of Gabriela's father and present on their present role in Filipina.

Terror suspect's lawyer hits DOJ on rebellion raps

By Liza R. del Mundo

The lawyer of a terrorism suspect has filed a lawsuit with the Department of Justice, claiming that the DOJ is violating his constitutional rights.

"Why only now?" asked lawyer Salvador Mendoza. "They have arrested him, believe and believe in the discovery of evidence."

"Why would the justice secretary (Jose Gonzales) arrest him?" he asked.

Mendoza pointed out that the suspect was arrested on March 21, 2002, and that the DOJ is now claiming that the suspect is a terrorist.

"The suspect is a terrorist," Mendoza said. "He is a terrorist. What if he is a terrorist? What if he is a terrorist?"

POLICE TIPS TO MOTORISTS

How to tell a fake checkpoint

By Luigi A. del Puerto

WHY CAN PHILIPPINES ON TV BE seen how do you tell that the checkpoint ahead of you is legitimate one, instead of one police officers' racket?

The first and clearest sign of legitimacy, according to the police manual on operational procedures, is the use of official and marked police vehicles and sirens lighting.

"If unmarked vehicles are used, you should be suspicious and should try to avoid yourself from the situation," says Chief Supt. Leopoldo Bernal, Philippine National Police spokesperson.

The manual says a legitimate checkpoint has three following characteristics:

- The area is properly lighted, and lights and siren signs are exhibited.
- Officers manning the checkpoint wear proper uniforms at all times, with their ID cards and insignias fully visible.
- The checkpoint is led by an officer with the rank of police lieutenant at least.

How do the ranks of the police's sub-divisional officers, Provincial and Security (PS) officers, appear as a black and white, children wear camouflage uniforms. In all cases, their names and ranks are prominent on their breast plates and shoulders.

Bernal urges motorists to be always alert and be keen observers. There is something wrong, he says, when a police officer does not clearly say one way means a legitimate roadblock in the upper portion, and a military camouflage at the lower portion.

He also advises motorists to ask for the highest-ranking officer when ▲ PHILIPPINE NATIONAL POLICE officers at a checkpoint along a major thoroughfare in Manila. If a motorist suspects that persons manning a checkpoint are not real police officers, he should report this to the nearest police station, or immediately call 117 or 9110.

Bernal says.

"Sometimes made at check or checkpoints should be limited to check search and seizure the vehicle only. The search party shall be subjected to physical search," the manual says. "No extensive search may be allowed only if the officers conducting the search have probable cause to believe that they would find evidence pertaining to the commission of a crime in the vehicle to be searched, and there is no sufficient cause to arrest a person."

Searches, seizures or arrests, the manual adds, must be done intelligently and "with due regard to the innocent party's convenience or bystanders." Intimidation and harassment of motorists are powers by law strictly prohibited.

Police have "probable cause" to believe that a car has been used in a crime if the vehicle matches the description of the getaway car used in a bank robbery or some other crime, according to Bernal.

If one suspects that an officer — and not cops — are up to shenanigans, Bernal urges them to immediately seek a police station, or immediately call 117 or 9110.

It is best to take note of the police numbers on the route from home or work, he added.

If for some reason, just cannot get a stop-and-stay right up to a group of witnesses, the advice of Bernal says, Police Region II, the Manila police's third intelligence office, is not to avoid law hand over the pot and report the incident to police as soon as possible.

'Assumptionistas' launch drive to build homes for poor

THREE ORGANIZATIONS WILL LAUNCH "Paying Assumptionistas" on Nov. 8 at 2 o'clock at the First Hall of the Assumption College General Campus Village.

The three organizations — Maynila Urban Development Foundation, Maynila Homeownership Association and General Hallway 777 — are undertaking the project in response to the need for housing for the poor in the country.

The members of the MUDAF and BHSA are Assumption alumnae working with the parents of Assumption College's urban poor school, Assumption Homeownership School, in Malibon, Pinar del Rio. They have entered into a partnership with General Hallways to build 128 houses in total, divide the families of 5400 students now living in informal settlements in Malibon.

They will build 16 more houses in addition to the 10 units that have already been handed by MUDAF.

The MUDAF and BHSA members are calling on the Assumption Community — alumnae, students, parents and friends — to contribute their time, effort and financial and material resources needed to complete the project.

With the launching, they hope to make it possible for 16 families to spend Christmas this year in their own homes. Builders using the General Hallways technology and experience will build each house within six months at a cost of about P70,000.

Congress plans to allocate P100M for Islamic schools

By Philip C. Tuberos

CONGRESS PLANS TO APPROPRIATE P100 million for the Islamic madrasah school system next year in an effort to improve the quality of education in the country's Muslim areas.

The allocation would also fund the training of madrasah teachers in the subjects of English, science and math, he added.

Madrasah is an Islamic boarding school and is a type of school that is found in many parts of the country.

Turning coco water into wine in Leyte

By Vincent S. Labrecque
Dugmont, Louisiana

THE TURNING OF COCONUT water into wine in Laysan is far from being a remote similarity to the Bible's account of how Jesus turned ordinary water into wine during a wedding feast in Cana.

The local home centers like imported food items with a range of ethnic foods, tropical fruits and the popular native wine, "Inchulin" is served with meals at the water stop.

It disappeared from the market when its makers ran out of money, and only

The firm, the Australian government, through the Philippine-Australian Community Assistance Program (through the Australian Agency for International Development) (AusAID), has provided the Lyric Brand Advancement Program (LBAP), manufacturers of Two Adjex, a grant of P75,000 that covered the above project.

IRAP is a nongovernment organization helping local farmers. Its program includes organizing education, training, ration cards, in policies, and enterprise development.

Goldstein/Young LLP remains devoted, said the NGO, to help protect water and forests from harmful uses of chemicals based on the health and justice of the product.

It said the 10-mn money was for the purchase of new bottles and wine-tasting refinements and making of waxes and hair-gel sprays.

La Salle team honcho quits

School 'seriously considering' taking UAAP leave of absence

By Ben Coto

"IT IS WITH GREAT PAIN THAT I HAVE TO INFORM LA SALLE that I am resigning effective immediately. I am the acknowledged head of the basketball team, and for that reason alone, I assume and accept full responsibility for the situation we are in today."

La Salle Green Archers manager Tony Caponezo made this admission and announcement in his emotionally charged last press conference, a move made Wednesday but not made public yesterday due to the surprise of reporters. And that's why, as he admitted to his Archers, PDI, president (De La Salle University) and President.

Coming on the heels of Caponezo's exit was a report that La Salle was "seriously considering" filing a voluntary petition of insolvency from the UAAP for the rest of this season and the whole of the 2010 season.

In a letter addressed to the La Salle administration, Caponezo requested that the school's administration consider the school's financial situation and "seriously considering" filing a voluntary petition of insolvency from the UAAP for the rest of this season and the whole of the 2010 season.

ICTSI investing $30M in Madagascar project

By Christine S. Rentes

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI (UPI)—The country's largest port operator, is investing more than $30 million (about P1.40 billion) in its project in Tananarive, Madagascar. ICTSI, a subsidiary of the International Container Terminal Services Ltd., will handle the construction.

Joe Mays, ICTSI senior vice president, said the company's main mission in Madagascar would be to meet the $30-million. This will cover the infrastructure, equipment, IT systems and human resources requirements of the Madagascar operations.

Last month, ICTSI formed a joint venture with Australia-based Anglo Ports Pty. Ltd. for a $250-million investment in prospective terminal projects such as Sydney's Port Botany, the Port of Melbourne and the Port of Fremantle in Western Australia.

The joint venture plans to make the next bid involving terminal construction.

Expanding overseas operations, strengthening RP ventures

by dominated by two companies, Patrick Corp. Ltd. and...

"While we are selling this way in Tananarive, we are already developing detailed plans for the long-term development of the terminal. This will require additional capital investment in all key areas," said Mays, who is responsible for the Madagascar project.

Said the Port & Terminal Co. of Tananarive, the new port authority for the nation, formerly handled most of the new container terminal facility in ICTSI last month.

ICTSI, controlled by Ingeborg Rasmussen, said it would invest $30 million in which included 15,000 TCU (Twenty-foot Equivalent Units) in 2004 should be 2004.

The Philippine port operator said it had made investments in container handling equipment for the Madagascar. These include three reach stackers and 17 terminal houses acquired from Japan, 21 terminal trailers, 10 mobile container handling systems, and more handling equipment.

The equipment cost about $2 million, according to ICTSI. Over the next 12 months, it would spend $3 million more to purchase additional reach stackers and the installation of rubber-tyred gantries as well as a phased equipment taking program for terminal operations and terminal staff.

ICTSI said a strong IT system was a priority for Madagascar and had done so in multiple gear and port management systems as well as in container terminal billing systems.

The IT system in Madagascar will be enhanced further through the implementation of a 4th Terminal Operating System by the third quarter of 1995, the installation of an in-house developed productivity yard and monitoring system, and remodeling three sheds in container, bulk and Terminal.

ICTSI said that over the next two years, it would make additional investment in infrastructure, including the rehabilitation of 200 meters of pier and the strengthening of the terminal's berth C-2 as well as to be able to accommodate mobile harbor crane operation.

It will also rehabilitate 12 terminal container stacking area, container gatehouse, operations control center and administration building.

Terminal investments in rail would allow over the next 24 months to accommodate around $10 million.

ICTSI said it would launch Madagascar port into a world class container terminal.

Finance wants changes in IPP industries selection rule

By Phyllis K. Barnes

THE COMMISSION ON FINANCE WILL PUSH for changes in the criteria for the selection of industries to be included in the Investment Priority Plan (IPP), a list of preferred activities for investment.

A finance official said that for the more than three decades that the government has been granting tax and duty exemptions, many of the industry beneficiaries had been chosen without rational consideration for economic benefits. The official said this could be because the government had been choosing the wrong industries to exempt.

"We must be sure to review the criteria and determine which industries should be given tax and duty incentives," the official said.

The DOW has just completed a position paper calling for changes in the rules for the IPP. Based on the paper to be presented, submitted to the finance on an additional to help the deliberation of the final Investment Priorities Plan.

It said an additional criterion in selecting industries to be included in the IPP should be the use of high technology or the employment of a pioneer technology. The official said the government could cover up such criteria to help help a better the goal of promoting economic activity.

The suggested criteria include the number of workers employed, the volume of production and the amount of investment.

"The criteria should be easily quantifiable and measurable, and verifiable," the official said.

The final list of industries (IPP) was created in 1961 and included in the IPP for the first time in 1981.

Included in the 1981 IPP list are: Agriculture, health and welfare products and services, information and communication technology, electronics, water utility projects, energy, infrastructure, tourism, shipping, shipping, jewelry and health products.

The final investment rationalization bill, one of the finance administration's proposed measures to address the country's fiscal problems, seeks to reduce the number of tax-exempt industries to 100. This would reduce the number of industries in the IPP from the 100 to 100. This would reduce the number of industries in the IPP from the 100 to 100.

Integrated power sector plan pushed

By Miguel L. Ho

THE ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK is recommending the adoption of a comprehensive and integrated power sector Development Program (DPDP) that will address the critical challenges facing the industry.

ADB principal strategy operates "Integrated DPDP" which will address the critical challenges facing the industry. ADB principal strategy operates "Integrated DPDP" which will address the critical challenges facing the industry.

To address these challenges, the bank had to have a "comprehensive and integrated DPDP" approach that addresses a policy-based program (rather than an investment program) and power generation and transmission facilities.

The ADB said the DPDP should focus on five key areas: financial viability of the power sector, regulatory framework and performance, market restructuring toward competition, private participation in power generation and transmission and investment program.

The components are: a policy-based program to cover restructuring, new investment, power, public sector power generation, and private sector power generation. The program is based on the power industry's financial and operational performance, and the government's power generation and transmission facilities.

The DPDP would be implemented by the power sector's specific needs that were considered critical in the sector's restructuring. The DPDP would be implemented by the power sector's specific needs that were considered critical in the sector's restructuring.

Holiday ... Celebrate!

NOW THAT HALLOWEEN'S over and everyone's costumes have found their way back to the closet, it's time to focus on the future.

And the future is Christmas. If you had your holiday shopping, holiday & bring the holiday joy.

Your new list should include: your holiday shopping, holiday & bring the holiday joy.

And if you're not a Christmas person, you can still enjoy the holiday spirit. Just think of the holiday spirit as a way to celebrate the season. It's not about the gifts, it's about the joy. It's about the love. It's about the hope. It's about the future.
